This Summer's BEST BUYS

What better way to enjoy a sunny summer day than slacking off in the perfect hammock, while wearing the perfect sunscreen, and having the perfect man slave over the perfect grill to make you the perfect dinner? You can have it all! (Well, maybe not the grill man.) Here's how to get the best of everything for your backyard and more this summer.

MADE IN THE SHADE

To make sure a hammock is comfortable enough for even your laziest days, here is some shopping advice based on our tests of nearly a dozen models.

Fabric hammocks are the coziest ones. If, however, you can't resist the traditional rope kind, make sure it's taut so that you get enough support. But watch out for hammocks with an extra-tight weave down the center, which may be added to support two people. It creates a ridge that's a pain in the back during solo napping.
